

RESTS IN SEMI-STATE

THE FORM OF POPE LEO NOW LIES IN THE HALL OF THE THRONE ROOM.

INTERMENT NEXT SATURDAY

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE FLOCK TO CHURCH TO PRAY FOR THE LATE PONTIFF.

Rome, July 22.—The body of Leo XIII lies now in the hall of the throne room a few steps from the room in which his death took place. The same vestments, the cambric hood, the rochet and the white gown which were put on Monday cover the form, which rests in semi-state surrounded by the lighted candles, the noble guard and Franciscan penitentials.

Today the diplomatic body, the high dignitaries and the Roman aristocracy will enter the hall to pay their tributes of respect to all that remains of the pope, who won the respect and affection of the world. In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in all the glory of the pontifical robes, the mitre replacing the hood and at sunset it will be taken into the chapel of the sacrament of St. Peter's, where for three days the public will be given an opportunity of paying a last farewell. The interment will occur Saturday evening.

Impressive Ceremonies.

Tuesday was notable for the impressive ceremonial of the recognition of the death of the pope, which occurred in the morning in the chamber in which he died. Thereafter only those were admitted who were concerned in the embalming of the body, an operation which occupied six hours. Meantime the authorities of the vatican proceeded with the preparations for the funeral and the conclave and the acknowledgment of the condolences which had been received. Among the latter was a notable message from the German emperor.

Throughout the day the vatican was surrounded by crowds which increased towards night. Several thousand entered St. Peter's at vespers and joined in prayers for the departed. Among these were many Italian officers, whose troops shortly after sunset were marched from the vatican back to their barracks. At no time had their services been needed. It is not the custom in Italy to wear the conventional emblems of mourning and hence the crowd which, in consequence of the closing of many places of business, wanders the streets, has more the appearance of an aimless holiday making throng than one sorrowing for the death of the pope.

Hundreds Pray for Pope Leo.

Into nearly all the churches, however, hundreds, not often seen in places of devotion, flocked to vespers to say a hurried prayer. Afterwards they loitered outside, reading the deep black edged proclamation of Cardinal Respighi, the vicar of Rome, concerning the funeral arrangements, the meeting of the conclave and the church ceremonies.

The quiet of the evening was broken by a chorus such as the world has seldom heard. On the strike of 8 all of Rome's 400 churches commenced to toll bells for the passing of the soul of Leo XIII. From the seven hills and from every quarter of the city which contained churches came the constant clang until all was one vast reverberation.

The harsh jingling of the smaller chapel bells striking quickly and more often was not drowned by the solemn strokes that came in mourning measure from the great dome of St. Peter's. It was as if a great fire raged and every bell in Rome was vying with every other in anxiety to warn the populace. Except in its common motive and common sorrow it was an amazing discord, which continued an hour and which will recur nightly until the obsequies are over.

Seals Papal Property.

Monsignor Cagliano, the major domo, assisted by the papal notary, and Monsignor Biletti, master of the chamber, sealed all the drawers and boxes in the papal apartments, making a minute inventory of all objects of value found. These were entrusted for safe keeping to Prince Rospigliosi, the commandant of the noble guard. Cardinal Oreglia, in giving instructions to the commanders of the papal armed bodies, said:

"Although the relations between the church and the government of Italy are less strained than in 1878, so that certainly order will be maintained outside the vatican, I remind you that it is your duty to watch closely inside the vatican to prevent, especially during the conclave, the interference of any extraneous influence."

According to tradition, the camerlengo is entitled to have his apartment watched day and night by a picket of the Swiss guard, but at 9 o'clock last night Cardinal Oreglia sent word that the eight Swiss guards posted at his door should withdraw. Cardinal Oreglia's request to Cardinal Rampolla that the latter should remain at the vatican is considered.

A Most Diplomatic Move.

being perhaps the first step for an agreement between them and might entirely change all the prophecies hitherto made concerning the issue of the conclave. Indeed, some profess to see a result of this in the morning's skin-ish at the first meeting of the congregation of cardinals over the appointment of a secretary to the consistorial congregation. After the discussion of several candidates, among whom was Mgr. Gaspari, known to be Cardinal Rampolla's protegee, some one suggested Mgr. Merry del Val. He was immediately supported by the whole anti-Rampolla element, merely to test the strength of the ex-secretary of state, but this strategem was unsuccessful, as Cardinal Oreglia made it manifest that he was not personally interested in the matter, while Cardinal Rampolla swung his followers to the support of Merry del Val and thus avoided a measure of his strength at this juncture.

RELATIVES SAY FAREWELL.

Touching Scene in the Death Chamber of Pope Leo.

Rome, July 22.—There was a touching scene at the vatican Tuesday morning when the nephews of Leo, with their families, entered the death chamber to take a last farewell of their uncle, for whom they had an intense reverence. The elders were dressed in black and the children in white. As they entered, the younger children, awe-struck and frightened, began to cry at this, their first acquaintance with death, but the beauty of the scene soon quieted them and they ceased to weep. The little party advanced on tiptoe, and circling around the bed, fell on their knees and joined in the prayers of the penitentials. The whiteness of the children's gowns added a pleasing note to the rather highly colored scene.

Presently the visitors arose and slowly filed past the bed, kneeling to kiss the dead hand as they passed. Count Camillo, one of the nephews who knew him best, accompanying him all ways when he went into the gardens of the vatican, was quite overcome, more so, in fact, than at any time since his uncle's death occurred.

The will of Leo XIII has not yet been opened. Consequently all alleged news concerning it and the millions he is said to have left to the church is imaginary.

A death mask was taken by Commandator Galli, director of the vatican museum, Tuesday. The delicate work was successfully executed and the result is considered highly satisfactory.

PURE FOOD LAWS.

National Legislation Favored by the Speakers at St. Paul Convention.

St. Paul, July 22.—Representatives of seventeen great states of the Union assembled in this city yesterday in the convention of the National Association of State and Food Departments, held in the senate chamber of the capitol. Besides the members of the state dairy and food departments, who were fifty-three in number, there were various other interests represented. From the United States department of agriculture have come Professor H. W. Wiley and Henry E. Alvord, and twenty-five manufacturers of food products have representatives in attendance.

The states represented are Oregon, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa, Michigan, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin, California, Nebraska, Minnesota, Idaho.

The keynote of the entire proceedings yesterday was national legislation to establish food standards, and every paper presented and every portion of the discussion had its tendency toward that one great subject. The necessity for national pure food laws was unanimously recognized, and while there was some variety as to how those laws should be framed, how they should be promoted in congress, or what they should contain, all speakers agreed that the standards of purity for food products should be established by national law, and that state laws should conform to the standards thus fixed.

The chief feature of the day's programme was the address delivered last evening by Professor H. W. Wiley, chief of the United States bureau of chemistry, in which he explained the recent experiments with borax and boric acid which he conducted.

Addresses were also delivered by Professor J. H. Shepard, state chemist of South Dakota; Professor S. S. Ladd, state chemist of North Dakota; Edward N. Eaton, M. S., state analyst of Illinois; Professor M. S. Scovill, director of Kentucky experiment station; Dr. William Treat, vice director of Pennsylvania experiment station.

Charged With Killing His Wife.

St. Louis, July 22.—Samuel A. Parsons, a former brakeman, is locked up in the East St. Louis jail on the charge of killing his wife, whom he shot Monday night, thinking her a burglar, he said. Mrs. Parsons, who died Tuesday, did not make any charges against her husband, but neighbors say the couple quarreled Monday night.

Hailstorm Causes Damage.

Hartford, Conn., July 22.—The most violent hail storm ever known here struck this city Tuesday afternoon, causing much damage to gardens, fruit trees and windows.

Returns Indictments.

Jackson, Ky., July 22.—The grand jury last night returned indictments against Edward Tharp and Joseph Crawford, teamsters for the Hargis Brothers, for arson. They were already held on the charge of setting fire to Ewen's hotel last month. An indictment was also returned against Gardner Plummer for attempting to bribe Ewen.

DEFEAT THE REBELS

PHILIPPINE SCOUTS AND RURAL CONSTABULARY KILL FIFTEEN INSURGENTS.

FIGHT LASTS THREE HOURS

FOUR NON-COMBATANTS AND ONE SCOUT KILLED IN STREET BATTLE AT ALBAY.

Manila, July 22.—The Philippine scouts and rural constabulary defeated 250 rebels in the streets of Albay, the capital of the island of Albay, on Thursday last, killing fifteen and wounding fifteen. The combatants entered the town from opposite sides and street fighting continued for three hours. Four non-combatants were killed. The rebels lost one killed and two wounded. The rebels were led by Simeon Ola, chief of the Albay rebels, and they had fifty rifles. Colonel H. H. Banholtz, formerly captain of the Second infantry, who was in command of the scouts and constabulary, has been campaigning actively in Albay, but this was the first decisive engagement he has had.

Twenty-five native priests who seceded from the Catholic church in Iloilo because of the failure of the church to appoint a native bishop, have refused to join the Aglipay movement and will continue their Catholic rites while refusing to acknowledge the papal authority.

DESPERATE PISTOL DUEL.

Three Kentuckians Wounded in a Fight Near Jackson.

Jackson, Ky., July 22.—In a desperate pistol duel at Cave Run schoolhouse, three miles east of Jackson, Tuesday, three persons were seriously hurt. James and William Barrett and Mack Howard and his fourteen-year-old son were the principals. A bullet from James Barrett's pistol lodged in the abdomen of James Vires, aged twelve, who was sitting at his desk in the schoolhouse. Mack Howard was shot in the arm and his elbow was shattered. James Barrett was shot in the head with buckshot and his skull was fractured.

The civil authorities declined to take action and two details of soldiers from here were sent into the country to make arrests. Captain Foley's posse arrested the Howards, and details under Lieutenant MacLeod overtook the Barretts several miles from the scene of the shooting. Mack Howard was too seriously hurt to be brought to town, but the others were landed in jail here. James Barrett is a mulatto. He admitted shooting twelve men and one woman and of these two died. For one killing he was acquitted and for the other given one year in the penitentiary, being pardoned last April. Mack Howard is paralyzed from the waist down from being shot in a fight four years ago.

Last night Howard and James Barrett played poker in Jackson and Barrett won Howard's money and accepted his pistol as a pawn for $10. Howard followed him to the scene of the shooting in an attempt, he says, to redeem the weapon. Barrett claims the pistol was bought outright. Howard borrowed a gun and his son had a pistol. The Barretts had revolvers and several shots were fired. The schoolboy may recover and the two men were fatally wounded.

NEGROES FIGHT OVER CARDS.

One of Them Killed and Three Others Seriously Wounded.

Morgantown, W. Va., July 22.—As a result of a free-for-all fight over cards at Opeksika, this county, Monday night, Tom Carter was killed outright, Charles Lewis was mortally wounded and William Jensen and Henry Horner seriously wounded. All are negroes in the employ of the contracting firm building the lock and dam on the Monongahela river at Opeksika. The shooting, it is said, was done by Robert Hyer, also a negro, who made his escape and has not yet been captured.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Many Buildings and Other Property Damaged in Missouri.

Marshall, Mo., July 22.—A terrific wind and rain storm visited this city Tuesday, resulting in much damage to property. The tent of Rev. Dr. Munhall, an evangelist who had been conducting revival meetings here, was blown down, but fortunately the congregation had been dismissed in time to escape. Major Randolph, colored, was killed by a live wire. Many buildings were badly damaged and considerable destruction was wrought in the country.

ENVELOPED IN FLAMES.

Village of Arcadia, O., in Danger of Destruction by Fire.

Findlay, O., July 22.—A telephone message from Arcadia, a town ten miles east of here, announces that the village is enveloped in flames. Several large buildings have been destroyed and the entire town is in danger. Owing to the storm here, communication by telephone or telegraph with Arcadia is practically cut off. The Findlay and Fostoria fire departments have sent assistance to the threatened village.

GREAT DAY FOR THE ELKS.

Thousands Attending National Reunion at Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 22.—Tuesday was a great day for the thousands of Elks who are here attending the national reunion of their order, the consensus of opinion being that this meeting is the most enthusiastic and successful in the history of the organization. From an early hour in the morning numerous bands marched through the principal streets, stopping at newspaper offices and public buildings to play stirring airs, and being followed by multitudes of eager, applauding people.

At Elks Hall, which is the general headquarters of visitors, there was a surging mass of people going and coming continuously, while all the hotels and cafes were filled with crowds, seemingly bent on the one purpose of merriment and good fellowship.

In the afternoon after the opening session of the grand lodge many Elks proceeded in carriages and tally-ho to various parts of Baltimore and suburban resorts to take in the sights, while others went for a sail on the river and bay.

It is estimated that there are 30,000 visitors in the city.

STOCKS ON THE DECLINE.

Bear Attacks and Forced Liquidation Send Them Downward.

New York, July 22.—Bear attacks, coupled with further forced liquidation, resulted in a new low level for a number of securities in Tuesday's stock market. Declines ranged from fifteen points to three, while some of the better grade stocks showed losses of a point or more.

The attack on prices began at the opening, and was continued at more or less regular intervals throughout the day. In fact, lowest prices for some issues came almost at the close.

The United States Steel shares were most severely pounded. Steel common closed at 22, a low record figure, while the preferred stock touched 70.

Besides the Steel issues, the lowest prices ever recorded were scored by Tennessee Coal and Iron, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Republic Iron and Steel preferred, United States Realty and Virginia-Carolina Chemical. In the railway group there were new low records in Rock Island common and preferred, Kansas and Texas preferred, Chicago Terminal, Three C's, Colorado and Southern issues, Lake Erie and Western preferred, Brooklyn Rapid transit, Metropolitan Street Railway, Pacific Coast and Peoria and Eastern.

The steady decline in the Steel stocks created great uneasiness.

FROM UNION'S STANDPOINT.

Bookbinders Will Issue a Statement on the W. A. Miller Case.

Washington, July 22.—The case of W. A. Miller, assistant foreman of the bindery of the government printing office, who was removed from office because he was expelled from the Bookbinders' union and who was reassigned to duty, came up last night at a meeting of the union at which about 500 members were present. After a session held behind closed doors, President Barrett of the union announced that today a statement of the case from the union standpoint would be made.

A copy of this will be furnished to the president to Secretary Cortelyou, to the civil service commission and to Public Printer Palmer. Mr. Barrett said that the paper would show that the position of the Bookbinders' union was correct in the present case and that the reinstatement of Miller would cause discord.

KING EDWARD IN DUBLIN.

British Ruler Welcomed by Immense Crowd at Capital City of Ireland.

Dublin, July 22.—The entry of King Edward and Queen Alexandra into Dublin was made the occasion for a general holiday. The decorations of the city, especially along the route of the procession to the viceregal lodge in Phoenix park, surpassed anything hitherto attempted by Dublin, not excepting Queen Victoria's last visit. The grandstands erected at various places were crowded, while the people were massed on the sidewalks. Their majesties continuously bowed their acknowledgments of the warm greetings, especially at the College green, which was packed by a multitude of people.

It was late in the afternoon when the viceregal lodge was reached. Their majesties lunched with the lord lieutenant and the day's programme was concluded with a formal visit by their majesties to the Duke of Connaught.

The whole day's proceedings were not marred by any unpleasant incident beyond the ceremony of handing the keys of the city to the king. The city hall, alone, of all public buildings, was not decorated.

CAPTURE THE TOWN

FORCES OF VENEZUELAN GOVERNMENT ARE VICTORIOUS AT CIUDAD BOLIVAR.

REBELS SUFFER HEAVY LOSS

TERRIBLE CARNAGE MARKS THE STORMING AND CAPTURE OF THEIR STRONGHOLD.

Caracas, Venezuela, July 22.—A messenger who has arrived here by steamer and train from Ciudad Bolivar, reports that the city was captured by the government troops at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Soledad, Venezuela, July 22.—The fight from 1 o'clock Monday afternoon has been horrible and the only places which still resist the onset of the government troops are the jail and the capitol.

Early in the afternoon the government troops, which had received all the reinforcements available, together with ammunition, and who numbered in all 5,200 men, were ordered to make a general attack upon all positions still held by the rebels. At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon the "Zamora," called the Sebastopol of Ciudad Bolivar, was stormed and captured. Ninety-four dead rebels were found inside, among them being General Azanza, one of the revolutionary leaders, whose head had been blown off by a shell. It is impossible to render an idea of the carnage which occurred at this point.

Barricade Destroyed.

At the same time General Rivas General Gomez's chief lieutenant, with 2,300 men, succeeded in destroying a barricade erected around the Miranda plaza, the key to the capitol, where all the survivors of the revolution were concentrated.

All the roads and streets running into the capitol are guarded by government troops and the escape of the revolutionists after the capture of the capitol, which is inevitable, seems impossible. They must either surrender or die. At 7 o'clock Monday night the customs house was taken after a ten-hour fight. The Associated Press representative counted sixty killed as a result of this fight.

The Dalton block, where the American consulate and most of the foreign business houses are located, was captured at 5 o'clock. The revolutionists are without provisions and water, the supply pipe having been cut Sunday. Their situation is considered desperate and hopeless. The shops are being pillaged.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Two Men Sent to Jail for Wrecking a Passenger Train.

Roanoke, Va., July 22.—James W. Bailey and John W. Kennedy have been arrested near Shenandoah, charged with wrecking a Norfolk and Western passenger train near Greenville on the night of Dec. 28 last, when Engineer Wesley Bailey was killed. The men pleaded guilty and were sent to Staunton jail without bond. They are charged with murder.

AFTER A LONG ILLNESS.

Right Rev. Henry Muehlstein Dies at St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 22.—After suffering for six months from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, which was followed by other complications, Right Rev. Henry Muehlstein, vicar general of the Catholic archdiocese of St. Louis, died Tuesday night. The vicar general was sixty-eight years old.

CORN CROP DAMAGED.

Heavy Rain Creates Havoc in Vicinity of Toledo, O.

Toledo, O., July 22.—The heaviest rain of the season passed over this section Tuesday evening and did much damage to trees. Reports from the country are to the effect that the corn crop was badly damaged.

WINE of CARDUI

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

SIR THOMAS A MASCOT.

Shamrock III Scores a Big Victory With Her Owner on Board.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 22.—After her narrow margin of victory Monday, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the nautical blue ribbon was again in racing form Tuesday and trimmed her trial horse by 33 minutes, 17 seconds in a twenty-mile race. Much of her big victory was due to a fluke in which she covered miles of water while Shamrock I hurg idly in a calm. Another thing which the sailors say brought luck to the new boat was that Sir Thomas, after watching the race from the Erin for several days, sailed on the challenger. Her crew declares that he rarely fails to bring good luck. Sir Thomas was highly pleased at the work of Shamrock III.

RICH ORE DISCOVERED.

Iron Found in Abundance in Famous Section Thirty.

Duluth, July 22.—The famous section 30 case is recalled by the discovery of rich veins of iron ore on the site which, for seventeen years, was in litigation.

Drills which have been at work for over six months have at last discovered the ore. The first bed is over a quarter of a mile long and 260 feet wide.

The Pennsylvania road is behind the new owners and they expect to get 15,000,000 tons of ore out of the place, paying $3,000,000 bonus and 40 cents per ton as royalty to the exploration company that recently won out in the litigation.

ENGINEER CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Caught by a Cable and His Body Horribly Mangled.

Duluth, July 22.—John T. Atkinson, an engineer in the employ of the Lake Superior Construction and Dredging company, was crushed to death on dredge No. 8 of the blast furnace docks at West Duluth during the afternoon. He fell on the floor where some oil had been spilled and was caught by a cable and twisted around the drum of the engine. The body was horribly mangled and life was extinct when it was rescued by his companions.

The entire East Side of the town of Hobart, I. T., was burned Monday night. Loss, $100,000.

The Reliance, Constitution and Columbia were unable to finish their race Tuesday, the wind dying out.

It is said that Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, will visit Waukegan, Wis., in an effort to regain his health.

Ernest Nichols, star pitcher of the Pacific National baseball league, died suddenly at Natatorium Park, Spokane, Wash., of heart trouble shortly after taking a plunge in the natatorium pool.

THE FORM OF POPE LEO NOW LIES IN THE HALL OF THE THRONE ROOM.

INTERMENT NEXT SATURDAY

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE FLOCK TO CHURCH TO PRAY FOR THE LATE PONTIFF.

Rome, July 22.—The body of Leo XIII lies now in the hall of the throne room a few steps from the room in which his death took place. The same vestments, the comauro hood, the rochet and the white gown which were put on Monday cover the form, which rests in semi-state surrounded by the lighted candles, the noble guard and Franciscan penitentials.

Today the diplomatic body, the high dignitaries and the Roman aristocracy will enter the hall to pay their tributes of respect to all that remains of the pope, who won the respect and affection of the world. In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in all the glory of the pontifical robes, the mitre replacing the hood and at sunset it will be taken into the chapel of the sacrament of St. Peter's, where for three days the public will be given an opportunity of paying a last farewell. The interment will occur Saturday evening.

Tuesday was notable for the impressive ceremonial of the recognition of the death of the pope which occurred in the morning in the chamber in which he died. Thereafter only those were admitted who were concerned in the embalming of the body, an operation which occupied six hours. It is not the custom in Italy to wear the conventional emblems of mourning and hence the crowd which, in consequence of the closing of many places of business, wanders the streets, has more the appearance of an aimless holiday making throng than one sorrowing for the death of the pope.

Monsignor Cagliano, the major domo, assisted by the papal notary, and Monsignor Bisleti, master of the chamber, sealed all the drawers and boxes in the papal apartments, making a minute inventory of all objects of value found. These were entrusted for safe keeping to Prince Rospigliosi, the commandant of the noble guard. Cardinal Oreglia, in giving instructions to the commanders of the papal armed bodies, said:

RELATIVES SAY FAREWELL.

Touching Scene in the Death Chamber of Pope Leo.

Rome, July 22.—There was a touching scene at the vatican Tuesday morning when the nephews of Leo, with their families, entered the death chamber to take a last farewell of their uncle, for whom they had an intense reverence. The elders were dressed in black and the children in white. As they entered, the younger children, awe-struck and frightened, began to cry at this, their first acquaintance with death, but the beauty of the scene soon quieted them and they ceased to weep. The little party advanced on tiptoe, and circling around the bed, fell on their knees and joined in the prayers of the penitentials. The whiteness of the children's gowns added a pleasing note to the rather highly colored scene.

Count Camillo, one of the nephews who knew him best, accompanying him all ways when he went into the gardens of the vatican, was quite overcome, more so, in fact, than at any time since his uncle's death occurred.

The will of Leo XIII has not yet been opened. Consequently all alleged news concerning it and the millions he is said to have left to the church is imaginary.

A death mask was taken by Commander Galli, director of the vatican museum, Tuesday. The delicate work was successfully executed and the result is considered highly satisfactory.

PURE FOOD LAWS.

National Legislation Favored by the Speakers at St. Paul Convention.

St. Paul, July 22.—Representatives of seventeen great states of the Union assembled in this city yesterday in the convention of the National Association of State and Food Departments, held in the senate chamber of the capitol. Besides the members of the state dairy and food departments, who were fifty-three in number, there are various other interests represented. From the United States department of agriculture have come Professor H. W. Wiley and Henry E. Alvord, and twenty-five manufacturers of food products have representatives in attendance.

The states represented are Oregon, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa, Michigan, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin, California, Nebraska, Minnesota, Idaho.

The keynote of the entire proceedings yesterday was national legislation to establish food standards, and every paper presented and every portion of the discussion had its tendency toward that one great subject. The necessity for national pure food laws was unanimously recognized, and while there was some variety as to how those laws should be framed, how they should be promoted in congress, or what they should contain, all speakers agreed that the standards of purity for food products should be established by national law, and that state laws should conform to the standards thus fixed.

The chief feature of the day's programme was the address delivered last evening by Professor H. W. Wiley, chief of the United States bureau of chemistry, in which he explained the recent experiments with borax and boric acid which he conducted.

Addresses were also delivered by Professor J. H. Shepard, state chemist of South Dakota; Professor S. S. Ladd, state chemist of North Dakota; Edward N. Eaton, M. S., state analyst of Illinois; Professor M. S. Scovill, director of Kentucky experiment station; Dr. William Treat, vice director of Pennsylvania experiment station.

DEFEAT THE REBELS

PHILIPPINE SCOUTS AND RURAL CONSTABULARY KILL FIFTEEN INSURGENTS.

FOUR NON-COMBATANTS AND ONE SCOUT KILLED IN STREET BATTLE AT ALBAY.

Manila, July 22.—The Philippine scouts and rural constabulary defeated 250 rebels in the streets of Albay, the capital of the island of Albay, on Thursday last, killing fifteen and wounding fifteen. The combatants entered the town from opposite sides and street fighting continued for three hours. Four non-combatants were killed. The scouts lost one killed and two wounded. The rebels were led by Simeon Ola, chief of the Albay rebels, and they had fifty rifles. Colonel H. D. Banheltz, formerly captain of the Second infantry, who was in command of the scouts and constabulary, has been campaigning actively in Albay, but this was the first decisive engagement he has had.

Twenty-five native priests who succeeded from the Catholic church in Iloilo because of the failure of the church to appoint a native bishop, have refused to join the Aglipay movement and will continue their Catholic rites while refusing to acknowledge the papal authority.

DESPERATE PISTOL DUEL.

Three Kentuckians Wounded in a Fight Near Jackson.

Jackson, Ky., July 22.—In a desperate pistol duel at Cave Run schoolhouse, three miles east of Jackson, Tuesday, three persons were seriously hurt. James and William Barrett and Mack Howard and his fourteen-year-old son were the principals. A bullet from James Barrett's pistol lodged in the abdomen of James Vires, aged twelve, who was sitting at his desk in the schoolhouse. Mack Howard was shot in the arm and his elbow was shattered. James Barrett was shot in the head with buckshot and his skull was fractured.

The civil authorities declined to take action and two details of soldiers from here were sent into the country to make arrests. Captain Foley's posse arrested the Howards, and details under Lieutenant MacLeod overtook the Barretts several miles from the scene of the shooting. Mack Howard was too seriously hurt to be brought to town, but the others were landed in jail here. James Barrett is a mulatto. He admitted shooting twelve men and one woman and of these two died. For one killing he was acquitted and for the other given one year in the penitentiary, being pardoned last April. Mack Howard is paralyzed from the waist down from being shot in a fight four years ago.

Last night Howard and James Barrett played poker in Jackson and Barrett won Howard's money and accepted his pistol as a pawn for $10. Howard followed him to the scene of the shooting in an attempt, he says, to redeem the weapon. Barrett claims the pistol was bought outright. Howard borrowed a gun and his son had a pistol. The Barretts had revolvers and several shots were fired. The schoolboy may recover and the two men were fatally wounded.

NEGROES FIGHT OVER CARDS.

One of Them Killed and Three Others Seriously Wounded.

Morgantown, W. Va., July 22.—As a result of a free-for-all fight over cards at Opelika, this county, Monday night, Tom Carter was killed outright. Charles Lewis was mortally wounded and William Jensen and Henry Horner seriously wounded. All are negroes in the employ of the contracting firm building the lock and dam on the Monongahela river at Opelika. The shooting, it is said, was done by Robert Hyer, also a negro, who made his escape and has not yet been captured.

TERRIFIC WIND STORM.

Many Buildings and Other Property Damaged in Missouri.

Marshall, Mo., July 22.—A terrific wind and rain storm visited this city Tuesday, resulting in much damage to property. The tent of Rev. Dr. Munhall, an evangelist who had been conducting revival meetings here, was blown down, but fortunately the congregation had been dismissed in time to escape. Major Randolph, colored, was killed by a live wire. Many buildings were badly damaged and considerable destruction was wrought in the country.

The Findlay and Postoria fire departments have sent assistance to the threatened village.

GREAT DAY FOR THE ELKS.

Thousands Attending National Reunion at Baltimore.

Baltimore, July 22.—Tuesday was a great day for the thousands of Elks who are here attending the national reunion of their order, the consensus of opinion being that this meeting is the most enthusiastic and successful in the history of the organization. From an early hour in the morning numerous bands marched through the principal streets, stopping at newspaper offices and public buildings to play stirring airs, and being followed by multitudes of eager, applauding people.

At Elks Hall, which is the general headquarters of visitors, there was a surging mass of people going and coming continuously, while all the hotels and cafes were filled with crowds, seemingly bent on the one purpose of merriment and good fellowship.

In the afternoon after the opening session of the grand lodge many Elks proceeded in carriages and tally-hos to various parts of Baltimore and suburban resorts to take in the sights, while others went for a sail on the river and bay.

It is estimated that there are 30,000 visitors in the city.

At the session of the grand lodge, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Grand exalted ruler, Joseph T. Fanning, Indianapolis; grand esteemed leading knight, Charles A. Kelly, Boston; grand esteemed loyal knight, Richard J. Wood, Sioux Falls, S. D.; grand esteemed lecturing knight, C. F. Tomlinson, Winston, N. C.; grand secretary, George A. Reynolds, Saginaw, Mich.; tenth term, grand treasurer, Samuel H. Noeds, Cleveland, O.; grand tiler, Charles W. Kaufman, Hoboken, N. J.; re-elected, Robert W. Brown, Louisville, Ky., was elected a grand trustee to serve three years.

At the night meeting of the grand lodge, resolutions of sorrow upon the death of Pope Leo were adopted.

The grand band contest took place at Electric Park at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. a large number of bands competing. The awards have not yet been announced.

STOCKS ON THE DECLINE.

Bear Attacks and Forced Liquidation Send Them Downward.

New York, July 22.—Bear attacks, coupled with further forced liquidation, resulted in a new low level for a number of securities in Tuesday's stock market. Declines ranged from fifteen points to three, while some of the better grade stocks showed losses of a point or more.

The attack on prices began at the opening, and was continued at more or less regular intervals throughout the day. In fact, lowest prices for some issues came almost at the close.

The United States Steel shares were most severely pounded. Steel common closed at 22, a low record figure, while the preferred stock touched 70.

Besides the Steel issues, the lowest prices ever recorded were scored by Tennessee Coal and Iron, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Republic Iron and Steel preferred, United States Realty and Virginia Carolina Chemical.

In the railway group there were new low records in Rock Island common and preferred, Kansas and Texas preferred, Chicago Terminal, Three C's, Colorado and Southern Issues, Lake Erie and Western preferred, Brooklyn Rapid transit, Metropolitan Street Railway, Pacific Coast and Peoria and Eastern.

The steady decline in the Steel stocks created great uneasiness.

FROM UNION'S STANDPOINT.

Bookbinders Will Issue a Statement on the W. A. Miller Case.

Washington, July 22.—The case of W. A. Miller, assistant foreman of the bindery of the government printing office, who was removed from office because he was expelled from the Bookbinders' union and who was reassigned to duty, came up last night at a meeting of the union at which about 500 members were present. After a session held behind closed doors, President Barrett of the union announced that today a statement of the case from the union standpoint would be made.

A copy of this will be furnished to the president, to Secretary Cortelyou, to the civil service commission and to Public Printer Palmer. Mr. Barrett said that the paper would show that the position of the Bookbinders' union was correct in the present case and that the reinstatement of Miller would cause discord.

KING EDWARD IN DUBLIN.

British Ruler Welcomed By Immense Crowd at Capital City of Ireland.

Dublin, July 22.—The entry of King Edward and Queen Alexandra into Dublin was made the occasion for a general holiday. The decorations of the city, especially along the route of the procession to the viceregal lodge in Phoenix park, surpassed anything hitherto attempted by Dublin, not excepting Queen Victoria's last visit. The grandstands erected at various places were crowded, while the people were massed on the sidewalks. Their majesties continuously bowed their acknowledgments of the warm greetings, especially at the College green, which was packed by a multitude of people.

It was late in the afternoon when the viceregal lodge was reached. Their majesties lunched with the lord lieutenant and the day's programme was concluded with a formal visit by their majesties to the Duke of Connaught.

The whole day's proceedings were not marred by any unpleasant incident beyond the ceremony of handing the keys of the city to the king. The city hall, alone, of all public buildings, was not decorated.

CAPTURE THE TOWN

FORCES OF VENEZUELAN GOVERNMENT ARE VICTORIOUS AT CIUDAD BOLIVAR.

REBELS SUFFER HEAVY LOSS

TERRIBLE CARNAGE MARKS THE STORMING AND CAPTURE OF THEIR STRONGHOLD.

Caracas, Venezuela, July 22.—A messenger who has arrived here by steamer and train from Ciudad Bolivar, reports that the city was captured by the government troops at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Soledad, Venezuela, July 22.—The fight from 1 o'clock Monday afternoon has been horrible and the only places which still resist the onset of the government troops are the jail and the capitol.

Early in the afternoon the government troops, which had received all the reinforcements available, together with ammunition, and who numbered in all 5,200 men, were ordered to make a general attack upon all positions still held by the rebels. At 5 o'clock Monday afternoon the "Zamora," called the Sebastopol of Ciudad Bolivar, was stormed and captured. Ninety-four dead rebels were found inside, among them being General Azanza, one of the revolutionary leaders, whose head had been blown off by a shell. It is impossible to render an idea of the carnage which occurred at this point.

Barricade Destroyed.

At the same time General Rivas, General Gomez's chief lieutenant, with 2,300 men, succeeded in destroying a barricade erected around the Miranda plaza, the key to the capitol, where all the survivors of the revolution were concentrated.

All the roads and streets running into the capitol are guarded by government troops and the escape of the revolutionists after the capture of the capitol, which is inevitable, seems impossible. They must either surrender or die. At 7 o'clock Monday night the customs house was taken after a ten-hour fight. The Associated Press representative counted sixty killed as a result of this fight.

The Dalton block, where the American consulate and most of the foreign business houses are located, was captured at 5 o'clock. The revolutionists are without provisions and water, the supply pipe having been cut Sunday. Their situation is considered desperate and hopeless. The shops are being pillaged.

SIR THOMAS A MASCOT.

Shamrock III Scores a Big Victory With Her Owner on Board.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 22.—After her narrow margin of victory Monday, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the nautical blue ribbon was again in racing form Tuesday and trimmed her trial horse by 33 minutes, 17 seconds in a twenty-mile race. Much of her big victory was due to a fluke in which she covered miles of water while Shamrock I hung idle in a calm. Another thing which the sailors say brought luck to the new boat was that Sir Thomas, after watching the race from the Erin for several days, sailed on the challenger. Her crew declares that he rarely fails to bring good luck. Sir Thomas was highly pleased at the work of Shamrock III.

RICH ORE DISCOVERED.

Iron Found in Abundance in Famous Section Thirty.

Duluth, July 22.—The famous section 30 case is recalled by the discovery of rich veins of iron ore on the site which, for seventeen years, was in litigation.

Drills which have been at work for over six months have at last discovered the ore. The first bed is over a quarter of a mile long and 200 feet wide.

The Pennsylvania road is behind the new owners and they expect to get 15,000,000 tons of ore out of the place, paying $3,000,000 bonus and 40 cents per ton as royalty to the exploration company that recently won out in the litigation.

Mrs. Fred Vnrath,

No. 228 Territorial Street, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Mrs. Fred Vnrath.

hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

HEALTH REPORTS

Covering Operations of the Board for Two Years Throughout the Entire State of Minnesota.

The bi-annual report of the state board of health contains the accounts of three cases in which glanders had effected human beings. Two of the cases were fatal, and the third case, that of a young woman, is progressing satisfactorily toward recovery.

The first two cases came from a town in the northern part of the state. A young man became infected with the disease from a sick horse, and died. His brother took the disease, probably from the patient, and also died. It was thought for a day or two that it was smallpox.

Some of the germs from the bodies were sent to the state bacteriological department, and one of the young ladies in the laboratory became infected by the germs. The physicians took her in charge, and now at the end of a year, it is evident that she will recover. Cases of this kind are very rare.

In dealing with the subject of tuberculosis in cows and the testing of cows the report shows that the amount of milk from tested cows is about 50 per cent, the average being reduced by non-tested milk sent from outside points by rail.

BASE BALL NUBS

The St. Cloud team will play a game of ball next Sunday with the Grand Forks League team at Bemidji. The Great Northern is making quite an event of it and will run excursions into Bemidji from all directions.

There is some talk of a game between the attaches of the carnival company and a team composed of the Eagles at Athletic park some afternoon before Sunday.

The game between Staples and Brainerd on next Sunday afternoon should be a good one. The Staples team has made a very creditable showing this year and with Brainerd strengthened up as it is the exhibition ought to be worth seeing.

The following is taken from the Fargo Call: The following players have been blacklisted from playing professional ball on account of jumping Northern League contracts: Eugene Cox, jumping Superior for Brandon; and Archer, McGuire, Whealon and Donovan, for jumping Fargo for independent teams in Canada.

Mr. W. S. Benjamin, practical gang and rotary filler, of 71 Third avenue, East Brainerd, says: "Doan's Kidney did me so much good that I prevailed on many others to use them, and I know many cases where benefit has resulted. I had more or less pain and the renal secretions were acid in nature, thereby causing me considerable distress. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from a drug store, and can state that they had the effect of completely altering the condition of my kidneys referred to above. I shall certainly continue to advise others to use this remedy if annoyed in any way from their kidneys."

Sold for 50 cents, at H. P. Dunn & Co., and all druggists. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

HEALTH REPORTS

Covering Operations of the Board for Two Years Throughout the Entire State of Minnesota.

The bi-annual report of the state board of health contains the accounts of three cases in which glanders had effected human beings. Two of the cases were fatal, and the third case, that of a young woman, is progressing satisfactorily toward recovery.

The first two cases came from a town in the northern part of the state. A young man became infected with the disease from a sick horse, and died. His brother took the disease, probably from the patient, and also died. It was thought for a day or two that it was small pox.

Some of the germs from the bodies were sent to the state bacteriological department, and one of the young ladies in the laboratory became infected by the germs. The physicians took her in charge, and now at the end of a year, it is evident that she will recover. Cases of this kind are very rare.

In dealing with the subject of tuberculosis in cows and the testing of cows the report shows that the amount of milk from tested cows is about 50 per cent, the average being reduced by non-tested milk sent from outside points by rail.

MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

Jury Finds George Collins Guilty of Killing Detective Schumacher.

Union, Mo., July 22.—George Collins was last night convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of Detective Charles J. Schumacher, near Stanton, Mo., on Jan. 24. The penalty prescribed by law is death.

The jury arrived at its decision on the third ballot. When the result was announced, Collins listened calmly and with the same fortitude that has characterized his bearing since his arrest in company with William Rudolph at Hartford, Conn., last March. Rudolph, who recently escaped from the St. Louis jail, is still at large.

Counsel for the defense stated that a motion for a new trial will be filed.

OREGON RANGE WAR.

Cattlemen and Sheepmen Clash in Remote Districts.

Baker City, Ore., July 22.—A war is brewing between cattlemen and sheepmen in Grant, Mather and Harney counties. The cattlemen have posted notices threatening to kill sheepmen unless the latter keep their flocks out of certain districts. Several encounters have taken place already in remote districts, but no one has been killed.

DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT.

Will Probably Occur Early in the Next Session.

London, July 22.—The Times says that it is anticipated in official circles that parliament will be dissolved early in the next session and that a general election will occur in March.

In connection with this announcement rumors were current Monday that Premier Balfour intended in October to make a strong speech in support of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's fiscal programme and that thereupon Chancellor of the Exchequer Ritchie and the other free trade ministers would resign, which course would virtually compel Mr. Balfour to resign also and recommend a dissolution of parliament.

Costly Fire at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—Two storagehouses of the Louisville Public Warehouse company with their contents, the M. A. Hunt Mattress factory and six frame cottages, were destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The loss is about $125,000.

Confidence Increased.

New York, July 22.—Bradstreet's review of trade says well high perfect summer weather helps crops, increases confidence in fall trade and stimulates retail and summer resort business. Lower prices for many staples are really an encouraging development, because favorable to a wider and freer use of products heretofore impracticable under past abnormal conditions.

Banquet to Santiago Veterans.

Detroit, Mich., July 22.—Veterans of Santiago campaign attended a banquet last night in the Masonic temple. John M. Thurston was the speaker of the evening, responding to the toast "Our Country." Colonel Arthur L. Wagner, General Joseph Wheeler, General H. S. Hawkins and Charles Dick of Ohio were the other speakers.

WHIPS EIGHT MILITIAMEN.

Marvin Winton Resents Remarks About His Companion.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 22.—A squad of militiamen at the lake contrary to campment made some remarks about a girl who had accompanied Marvin Winton to the camp. He resented it and whipped eight men in uniform. Their friends rallied and the man was driven almost into the lake. Winton drew a knife and cut several soldiers before the row could be stopped by constables. The prisoner was again attacked on a street car while in charge of constables, and badly beaten. A large mob gathered and was dispersed with great difficulty by the officers.

FOUR INSTANTLY KILLED.

In Trying to Evade One Train They Got in the Way of Another.

Cincinnati, July 2.—Four persons were instantly killed Sunday afternoon near Avondale, a suburb station on the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern division of the Pennsylvania railway, while walking on the tracks. They were: Louis and William Murr, messenger boys, and two unidentified young men. While walking through a deep cut on a curve they got out of the way of an outgoing excursion train and were struck on the other track by an incoming passenger train.

COMMENCE SHIPPING PULP.

The Northwest Paper Company Has Been Doing Some Rushing Business Since Starting Up.

The landing for the new pulp mill of the Northwest Paper Company at the dam is about completed now and the company will commence to ship its big supply of pulp now on hand in a few days. It is estimated that they have something like four hundred tons of pulp ready to ship.

The company has plenty of good pulp wood on hand, enough in fact to keep the mill running steady night and day indefinitely.

ORGANIZED MILLION DOLLAR COMPANY

A. F. Ferris of This City Returns From the Canadian Northwest Where

A BIG COMPANY IS ORGANIZED Minneapolis and St. Paul Capitalists Interested in a Big Lumber Enterprise.

Senator A. F. Ferris returned this morning from Winnipeg and the Canadian northwest where he has been with other capitalists who are interested in a big million dollar lumber company just organized there. The following from the Winnipeg Free Press will explain the details of the big deal:

"Attached to yesterday's Great Northern train from the south was a private car, having on board a party of twelve financiers and investors from the United States, on their way to Fernie, B. C. The party includes O. A. Robertson, of St. Paul, president of the Canada Land and Colonization company and Northwest Colonization company; F. B. Lynch, of St. Paul, secretary of the Northwest Colonization company; J. C. Wood, treasurer of the same corporation; F. G. Barrows, banker, of Fergus Falls, Minn.; Messrs. Dutton, of Cycamore, Ill.; A. F. Ferris of Brainerd, C. A. Chambers, of Minneapolis, and a number of others whose names were not learned.

"They have purchased several hundred millions of fine timber in British Columbia, and included in the purchase are mills now in operation. The party goes to Fernie for the purpose of organizing a lumber and manufacturing company under the laws of British Columbia, the capital of which is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Early in the present year Messrs. Robertson, Lynch and their associates organized the Red Deer Lumber company with a capital of $500,000, for the purpose of converting into lumber 200,000,000 of spruce timber which they own in Saskatchewan. They are also the controlling factors in the Canadian Land and Colonization company and Northwest Colonization company, two Winnipeg land corporations with offices in the Imperial bank building, and which have been among the largest investors in farm lands in Manitoba and the west.

"G. S. Clark and H. J. Box, respectively mill manager and superintendent of logging operations for the Red Deer Lumber company, joined the party here. Both are considered to be experts in their field of work, and have had a long experience in their professions in the states. Mr. Box is a resident of Winnipeg and owns a handsome residence on Smith street, while Mr. Clark will soon become a Winnipegger also. "The car of the party left last night for Fernie attached to the regular coast train over the C. P. R."

Mr. Rehl came here recently to play in the Marine band and opera house orchestra. He is late bandmaster of the Ninth U. S. Inf. and is very capable.

CONTINUES TO DRAW.

Big Carnival Still Continues to Draw Big Crowds--Thousands Turned Out to See Attractions.

The carnival drew larger crowds last night than have been seen on the streets of the city for some time and the managers of all the various attractions announce that the receipts were very satisfactory. There is considerable merit about many of the attractions, while others are not so good, and should be cut out.

The crowd yesterday afternoon and last evening had the pleasure of seeing Legare, the spiral tower artist, and for intrepid daring he excels anything that has ever been seen in this city. He made his first ascension in this city yesterday afternoon and the second one at 8:30 in the evening. He will repeat these performances each afternoon and evening during the week. It is one of the greatest feats of equilibrium ever witnessed in this or any other city. His manipulation of the round ball seems almost impossible. He propels it to the top of the spiral tower and just to show that he can hold his own with the unweildy sphere he stands on his head on the sphere in mid air. He is very, very clever and those who have not seen this part of the carnival should be on the ground floor tonight.

The Hindoo Mystery did the largest business of any attraction in the carnival yesterday. This is a really meritorious performance and those who saw it saw things they had never conceived of before in the black art. The magic hand of this man is a wonder. He made bouquets out of nothing but air, picked a gold watch out of an empty bowl, poured water into a bucket and deluged the audience without getting them wet and finally slashed off the head of his best girl because she did not love him.

The glass blowers did a good business again last night. The show is not only entertaining but is instructive as well and when the week closes it is not at all unlikely that they will have done as good a business as any of the other attractions.

For the first time last night the people saw the electric fountain on the corner of Eighth and Front streets and it was a thing of dazzling beauty. Many of the other attractions, including the Ferris wheel, the Stadium, the miniature railroad, the Girl Up There, did a good business last night and seemed to give satisfaction.

The snake eating attraction in the carnival has been cut out and hereafter his royal highness will have to go where people appreciate such disgusting performances. The attraction, it is claimed by the management, was not a part of the carnival at all but came here independently.

Chairman C. D. Johnson Names A. F. Ferris and Dr. Hemstead on Committee.

TO LOOK INTO WATER POWER Question and Ascertain if it is Possible to Have the Contract Extended by Company.

Chairman C. D. Johnson, of the general citizen's committee, who was authorized to name a special committee at the last meeting of the gentlemen to negotiate with the owners of the dam in this city for more power and an extension of the water power contract, announced the appointment of A. F. Ferris and Dr. Hemstead this morning.

A committee of three will be named from the city council to confer with the above gentlemen and they together will interview the owners of the dam.

Alderman Rowley is the man who has been agitating this matter and it was he who brought up the matter at the last meeting of the citizen's committee. It seems that the council has for a long time been trying to get at the party who has the authority to negotiate with the city for more power and an extension of the contract now in force. The ownership of the dam has been in doubt for some time but last winter the property was transferred to the Northwest Paper Co. Mr. McNair, who is at the head of this concern stated at one time that he would be in a position to talk with the council on the matter about June 1, but at that time he would not give the council any satisfaction and has not done so up to the present time.

Something will have to be done to get more power eventually and the aldermen realize that prompt action will have to be taken.

ARE SEVERAL CANDIDATES.

For the Place on the Police Force Made Vacant by the Release of Officer Preston.

There are all kinds of candidates for positions on the police force in consequence of the mayor's action in releasing Officers Preston and Brockway.

The fact that the name of J. P. Barney was headed off at the last meeting of the council has given these candidates a new lease of life and they are pulling the wires now to beat the band. John Hurley, H. A. Stickney, Robt. Caughie and P. H. Knudson are some of those who would be willing to don the blue and become a minion of the law.

The mayor will probably take no action on the matter until the next regular meeting of the council and in the meantime the candidates will get very busy.

New Job for Creel.

The following dispatch relates to a new appointment in the department of agriculture and will be interesting as he is well known in northern Minnesota:

"Colonel H. M. Creel, of Devils Lake, N. D., has been appointed a special field agent of the department of agriculture, charged especially with reporting on the condition of cereals in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas. He will begin work at once. Last week he came to Washington to talk over the matter with John Hyde, chief statistician of the department, under whom he will work and to whom he will make regular reports. Colonel Creel is especially well equipped for this work in the great spring wheat belt, and his appointment will no doubt be pleasing to everybody in this section who is interested in having the government crop reports accurate and up to date. Colonel Creel will report twice a week by wire, supplementing this work by extended written reports several times per month."

ORGANIZED MILLION DOLLAR COMPANY

A. F. Ferris of This City Returns
From the Canadian Northwest Where

A BIG COMPANY IS ORGANIZED

Minneapolis and St. Paul Capitalists Interested in a Big Lumber Enterprise.

Senator A. F. Ferris returned this morning from Winnipeg and the Canadian northwest where he has been with other capitalists who are interested in a big million dollar lumber company just organized there. The following from the Winnipeg Free Press will explain the details of the big deal:

"Attached to yesterday's Great Northern train from the south was a private car, having on board a party of twelve financiers and investors from the United States, on their way to Fernie,
B. C. The party includes O. A. Robertson, of St. Paul, president of the Canada Land and Colonization company and Northwest Colonization company; F. B. Lynch, of St. Paul, secretary of the Northwest Colonization company; J. C. Wood, treasurer of the same corporation; F. G. Barrows, banker, of Fergus Falls, Minn.; Messrs. Dutton, of Cycamore, Ill.; A. F. Ferris of Brainerd, C. A. Chambers, of Minneapolis, and a number of others whose names were not learned.

"They have purchased several hundred millions of fine timber in British Columbia, and included in the purchase are mills now in operation. The party goes to Fernie for the purpose of organizing a lumber and manufacturing company under the laws of British Columbia, the capital of which is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.
Early in the present year Messrs. Robertson, Lynch and their associates organized the Red Deer Lumber company with a capital of $500,000, for the purpose of converting into lumber 200, 000,000 of spruce timber which they own in Saskatchewan. They are also the controlling factors in the Canadian Land and Colonization company and Northwest Colonization company, two Winnipeg land corporations with offices in the Imperial bank building, and which have been among the largest investors in farm lands in Manitoba and the west.

"G. S. Clark and H. J. Box, respectively mill manager and superintendent of logging operations for the Red Deer
Lumber company, joined the party here.
Both are considered to be experts in their field of work, and have had a lifelong experience in their professions in the states. Mr. Box is a resident of Winnipeg and owns a handsome residence on Smith street, while Mr. Clark will soon become a Winnipegger also.
"The car of the party left last night for Fernie attached to the regular coast train over the C. P. R."

CONTINUES TO DRAW.

Big Carnival Still Continues to Draw Big Crowds--Thousands Turned Out to See Attractions.

The carnival drew larger crowds last night than have been seen on the streets of the city for some time and the managers of all the various attractions announce that the receipts were very satisfactory. There is considerable merit about many of the attractions, while others are not so good, and should be cut out.

The crowd yesterday afternoon and last evening had the pleasure of seeing Legare, the spiral tower artist, and for intrepid daring he excels anything that has ever been seen in this city. He made his first ascension in this city yesterday afternoon and the second one at 8:30 in the evening. He will repeat these performances each afternoon and evening during the week. It is one of the greatest feats of equilibrium ever witnessed in this or any other city. His manipulation of the round ball seems almost impossible. He propels it to the top of the spiral tower and just to show that he can hold his own with the un-weildy sphere he stands on his head on the sphere in mid air. He is very very clever and those who have not seen this part of the carnival should be on the ground floor tonight.

The Hindoo Mystery did the largest business of any attraction in the carnival yesterday. This is a really meritorious performance and those who saw it saw things they had never conceived of before in the black art. The magic hand of this man is a wonder. He made bouquets out of nothing but air, picked a gold watch out of an empty bowl, poured water into a bucket and deluged the audience without getting them wet and finally slashed off the head of his best girl because she did not love him.

The glass blowers did a good business again last night. The show is not only entertaining but is instructive as well and when the week closes it is not at all unlikely that they will have done as good a business as any of the other attractions.

For the first time last night the people saw the electric fountain on the corner of Eighth and Front streets and it was a thing of dazzling beauty. A myriad of tiny sprays of water shoot up into the air and break and fall in a shower of mist, displaying in the waving electric light all the colors of the rainbow. In the center of the fountain is a girl dressed as a water nymph and when the mist is falling she gives several very pretty poses and dances.

Many of the other attractions, including the Ferris wheel, the Stadium,
the miniature railroad, the Girl Up There, did a good business last night and seemed to give satisfaction.

The snake eating attraction in the carnival has been cut out and hereafter his royal highness will have to go where people appreciate such disgusting performances. The attraction, it is claimed by the management, was not a part of the carnival at all but came here independently.

STORIES TOLD OF LEO

How He Blessed a Beautiful
American Girl.

A SAMPLE OF HIS READY WIT.

Not Disconcerted by a Proposition of
One of His Nieces—A Catholic Woman's Private Audience With the Pontiff—His Amusement at a Story
She Told Him.

A few years ago a beautiful American girl visited the Vatican with a party of pilgrims and was present at an audience with Leo XIII., says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The beautiful American was a sightseer. She was "doing" Rome, and she wanted to see all of its features. She had raved over St. Peter's and waved her hand at the king as he drove by and had lingered over the ruins of the Parthenon and the Coliseum, even as did Daisy Miller of pathetic memory.

The pope she had her doubts about. One had to dress in black to enter the Vatican, and she understood that it was customary to bow before the pontiff and to kiss his ring. She belonged to the Baptist church at home in Peoria, Ill., and she didn't know what her pastor would say. But she was in Rome to see things, and when the opportunity arrived she did as the Romans did.

The black was very becoming—a trailing gown and a mantilla-like veil over her fair hair. She looked lovelier than ever. The audience was not half as awe inspiring as she expected. It was quite simple, impressive and rather touching. The pontiff spoke a few words to each one of the party and asked the spokesman of the party many questions about the United States. Then each pilgrim bowed before the pontiff, while he extended a white and almost transparent thin hand over the bent head in benediction.

When it came the turn of the beautiful Baptist from Peoria she hung back. She did not want to be blessed. The pontiff asked one of the party why she did not approach him. It was explained that the fair American was a Protestant. The pope smiled.

"An old man's blessing could not harm even so beautiful a heretic as you, my dear," he said.

And then the beautiful Baptist went forward and bent her head before the white figure on the pontifical throne.

One of the London Truth's correspondents, writing of Leo's ready wit, says:

The following story of Leo XIII. is current in Italy. His nephews found it somewhat difficult to extract money from him. The wife of one of these nephews is said to have undertaken to get some from him. She solicited an interview and, having obtained it, said: "Holy father, I come to seek your advice. I am poor. I have a large family, and, alas, I am in debt! I have been gifted by heaven with a good voice, and the proprietor of a music hall has offered me a large salary to appear on his stage and sing a few simple songs. Ought I to accept the offer?"

A Catholic woman describes her private audience with Leo XIII. as follows, says the Kansas City Star:

I never will forget Pope Leo or the impression he made on me six years ago, when I talked with him for nearly an hour and received the holy communion from his trembling hands. After exploring the Holy Land I had letters of introduction from several dignitaries to obtain a private audience with the pope. I hardly expected such an honor. Two days after reaching Rome I received this invitation: "His holiness will receive you and give you communion tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock." At one corner it said, "Wear black dress, black veil and no gloves."

It was 10 o'clock in the evening when I received the invitation. Not having the black veil Romans use on such occasions and it being too late to buy one, I told my trouble to the landlady of the hotel, who willingly called on the neighbors until she found one. I was then afraid to be late and so anxious to see the pope that I never slept that night. Next morning, after being led by several ushers, who scrupulously examined my invitation, I reached the chapel where his holiness celebrated mass and gave me the holy communion. After mass he invited me to talk. He was very much interested in the Holy Land and smilingly asked me whether I saw any Bedouins and whether I was afraid of them. I then related to him that once I went with a lady friend walking from Jerusalem to Bethlehem simply to see whether we could walk six good hours under a hot sun. On the road, which is deserted, we perceived from afar an armed Bedouin and began to say our last prayers, but to our great surprise when he approached he greeted us.

"Good day, pretty girls! You will get as dark as I, walking under the sun."

This made the pope laugh heartily and say, "He was a good hearted man after all and seemed to care for your complexion more than you did."

After an interesting conversation I could see that Leo XIII. was a man of extraordinary intelligence, a sympathetic father and the greatest ruler the Catholic church ever had.

Two thousand Colombian paper dollars are of just the value of a pound of coffee. Thirty-three cents in American money would take them.

POEM WON A WIFE.

John Vance Cheney's Verses Interested Woman He Married.

THOU AND I.
Love, I would have thee as the snow is,
And pure on hilltops of the winter day;
Thou shouldst have sovereign rule, the
spirit sway
Of beauty, wide and shining as the light,
Thou shouldst be as the evening star is,
bright
As heaven can make it; all thy summer
way
The melodies of June should sing and
play
In thee, the darling of the day and night,
But I would have thee human first and
last,
One not untouched by trouble, sought
of sin;
Thine innocence not accident, but
choice.
Fit them my service; I should have no
past,
No future; newly would my life begin,
Obedient to the music of thy voice.
—John Vance Cheney.

Having won fame as a poet and essayist, it was but fitting that John Vance Cheney should have won his bride with a song. The news of his marriage to Mrs. Sarah Barker Chamberlain of Chicago at Manitou, Colo., which recently reached New York, is coupled with a pretty and romantic story of how the woman of his choice was attracted to him by reading the prophetic sonnet, "Thou and I," in which Mr. Cheney drew the picture of the woman who would enable him to begin his life anew, says the New York Evening Journal.

Each had been married before, and each sought for the affinity that would lend them to the happier life, and so after reading the sonnet the desire to meet the author came to Mrs. Chamberlain. As each had mutual acquaintances their meeting that they became engaged, although no public announcement was made of it. They were married at the residence of James F. Ponder in Manitou, Colo., on July 11.

NEW CONSUMPTION CURE.

Italian Physician's Serum Which He Claims Prevents Disease.

"A victory over consumption as brilliant and beneficent as Jenner achieved over smallpox is foreshadowed in the published results of the labors of Professor Edoardo Maragliano, a distinguished Italian physician," says the weekly bulletin of the Chicago health department.

"These results form the subject of the professor's address presented at the fourteenth international medical congress held at Madrid last April."

Briefly stated in nontechnical language, Professor Maragliano claims to have produced after more than thirty years of study and experiment both in the laboratory and the clinic a serum which introduced beneath the skin as vaccine lymph in vaccination produces a small circumscribed tuberculosis sore attended with slight fever for two or three days, after which the system of the subject is as immune to tuberculosis or consumption as the properly vaccinated individual is to smallpox.

NEW FRUIT SPRAY.

Missouri University Professor Invents a Deadly Powder.

Dr. R. M. Bird of the Missouri experiment station has made a discovery that will be welcomed by all fruit growers and horticulturists, says a Columbia (Mo.) special to the St. Louis Republic. It is a dry powder for spraying fruit trees and has proved more deadly to all insects affecting trees and plants than the liquid sprays now in use.

During the early spring so many inquiries were received at Columbia regarding the manner of destroying insects that Dr. Bird began looking for something that would be superior to the present method of spraying. The result of the investigation is a very fine powder, which contains copper in the same form that occurs in the liquid mixture. The spraying of fruit trees and vines has become a necessity among commercial fruit growers. The liquid mixture hitherto has given the best results.

Death Note For Mosquitoes.

The ordinary petroleum methods having been found useless in exterminating mosquitoes, the board of health of Brookline, Mass., is preparing to use the electrical vibrator which has been constructed by John F. Fleming, says the New York Tribune. The vibrator will play a high note, D, which, it is said, will attract and kill mosquitoes. A 110 volt current in the vibrator sounds the note 100 times a second. This note is said to be exactly the same as that sounded by the female in attracting the male insect.

Summer.

Earth has doffed the bridal raiment which her virgin form arrayed.
Fairer far the graceful mother than the shy and trembling maid;
As the iris to the bluebell, as the heather to the ling,
As the sunbeam to the twilight, so is summer to the spring.

Golden on her golden bosom is the waving of the corn.
Bright and flaming red the poppies that her comely waist adorn,
And she weaves the thousand emerald tints that play among her trees
In the brilliance of the banner she is fluttering to the breeze.

There's a honeysuckle garland bound about her shapely head.
Sending down its scented tendrils with her neck and breast to wed,
And the roses and carnations in her tangled tresses meet
As they wind about her body on their way to kiss her feet.

Now she knows no thought of sorrow, and her only uttered sigh
Is a breath of fragrant perfume in a rustling field of rye,
And she laughs through every moment of her sun bespangled day,
Where her streamlets chase the pebbles and her silver fountains play.

A VISIT TO LEO XIII.

Details of an American Priest's Audience With His Holiness.

CEREMONY SIMPLY CONDUCTED.

Rev. T. A. Hendrick of Rochester, N. Y., Says There Was Not Any Great Degree of Formality—Audience Chamber Furnished in Almost Spartan Plainness—Leo's Kind Reception of a Possible Familiarity.

The Rev. Father Thomas A. Hendrick, rector of St. Bridget's church, in Rochester, N. Y., a regent of the University of the State of New York and now prominently before the public as bishop elect of Cebu, in the Philippine Islands, was admitted to a private audience with Leo XIII. last August, says the New York Tribune. With Father Hendrick at the time was Richard Kerens of St. Louis. Father Hendrick in speaking of the audience said:

Both Mr. Kerens and myself shall always deem ourselves exceptionally favored in the matter of our audience with the holy father. It is generally the case that applications for a personal audience with the pope are subject to delays, sometimes ten or twelve days passing before a reply is received. Mr. Kerens and myself made formal application on Aug. 13 and were surprised to receive a summons the following day for a personal audience on Aug. 15. It has always been my opinion that the fact that we were Americans had something to do with this promptness in the consideration of our request, for another section of our party which had been delayed at Venice and arrived in Rome a day subsequent to our advent was likewise admitted after a delay of only twenty-four hours.

The ceremonial connected with an audience is not marked with any great degree of formality. We were met at the entrance to the Vatican by the Swiss guard in gorgeous uniforms, designed, it is said, by Michael Angelo and worn by them ever since. We were politely requested to leave upon a table such things as canes, umbrellas, and especially cameras. From this hall we were ushered into a larger apartment, where our hats were deposited. Thence we were piloted through a long succession of smaller chambers until the anteroom was reached. The persons preceding us were closeted with his holiness for a brief period, probably not more than a quarter of an hour. Our audience lasted for about that length of time. As I entered the chamber where the pope was awaiting our coming I was impressed by its almost Spartan plainness. Everything was of the utmost simplicity. Besides the ordinary chair in which the pope was seated there was not another piece of furniture to be seen, nor even a picture or a carpet or a rug. The outer office of many a lawyer or business man is palatial in comparison to that little chamber in which the head of the Roman Catholic church throughout the world received his children. But there was no need of such things. Leo himself filled the room with his presence and magnetic personality. His frame was slender and shrunken and his skin like fine parchment, but when I looked in his eyes and felt their brilliant fire burning through my very mind I forgot all else.

According to the usage, we knelt reverently and kissed the silver cross upon the holy father's slipper. He then addressed me in the pure and liquid Latin of Cicero. He had heard that I was a regent of the University of New York, and with that power of grasping the details of unfamiliar things he showed that he understood what this meant.

"The cause of education is of the greatest importance to the state," Leo said, "and for this reason I bless every institution under your care. I am much pleased with the great and generous American people, who saw fit to elect you, a Roman Catholic priest, to such a position of trust. It shows they recognize the value of a Christian education, and because they have recognized such qualifications in you I, too, am sure that by you the Christian education of young boys and girls will not be neglected."

Leo impressed me as a man of great kindness of heart, simplicity of manner and tremendous reserve of will power. There was nothing of ponderous gravity about him. On the contrary, he seemed the soul of good humor. He smiled broadly as he caught sight of a pile of religious objects I had brought to him to be blessed. When I told him they were for my congregation he murmured, "Good, good!" The holy father speaks with an Italian freedom and grace. Once he threw out his hand toward me, and I, mistaking his intention, took it reverently in mine. He smiled like a father, pressed my broader palm firmly and gently and alleviated my confusion. The master of the chamber, who was standing beside him, with difficulty suppressed a smile himself, but when he saw how pleasantly the pope received what he probably considered a familiarity such as one might expect from Americans his expression changed immediately.

At the time of our audience the pope looked very old and wrinkled, but the wonderful energy of his voice and gestures and the fire in his eyes impressed the beholder as those of a man still young in heart and strength.

STORIES TOLD OF LEO

How He Blessed a Beautiful
American Girl.

A SAMPLE OF HIS READY WIT.

Not Disconcerted by a Proposition of
One of His Nieces—A Catholic Woman's Private Audience With the Pontiff—His Amusement at a Story
She Told Him.

A few years ago a beautiful American girl visited the Vatican with a party of pilgrims and was present at an audience with Leo XIII., says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The beautiful American was a sightseer. She was "doing" Rome, and she wanted to see all of its features. She had raved over St. Peter's and waved her hand at the king as he drove by and had lingered over the ruins of the Parthenon and the Coliseum, even as did Daisy Miller of pathetic memory.

The pope she had her doubts about. One had to dress in black to enter the Vatican, and she understood that it was customary to bow before the pontiff and to kiss his ring. She belonged to the Baptist church at home in Peoria, Ill., and she didn't know what her pastor would say. But she was in Rome to see things, and when the opportunity arrived she did as the Romans did.

The black was very becoming—a trailing gown and a mantilla-like veil over her fair hair. She looked lovelier than ever. The audience was not half as awe inspiring as she expected. It was quite simple, impressive and rather touching. The pontiff spoke a few words to each one of the party and asked the spokesman of the party many questions about the United States. Then each pilgrim bowed before the pontiff, while he extended a white and almost transparent thin hand over the bent head in benediction.

When it came the turn of the beautiful Baptist from Peoria she hung back. She did not want to be blessed. The pontiff asked one of the party why she did not approach him. It was explained that the fair American was a Protestant. The pope smiled.

"An old man's blessing could not harm even so beautiful a heretic as you, my dear," he said.

And then the beautiful Baptist went forward and bent her head before the white figure on the pontifical throne.

One of the London Truth's correspondents, writing of Leo's ready wit, says:

The following story of Leo XIII. is current in Italy. His nephews found it somewhat difficult to extract money from him. The wife of one of these nephews is said to have undertaken to get some from him. She solicited an interview and, having obtained it, said: "Holy father, I come to seek your advice. I am poor. I have a large family, and, alas, I am in debt! I have been gifted by heaven with a good voice, and the proprietor of a music hall has offered me a large salary to appear on his stage and sing a few simple songs. Ought I to accept the offer?"

A Catholic woman describes her private audience with Leo XIII. as follows, says the Kansas City Star:

I never will forget Pope Leo or the impression he made on me six years ago, when I talked with him for nearly an hour and received the holy communion from his trembling hands. After exploring the Holy Land I had letters of introduction from several dignitaries to obtain a private audience with the pope. I hardly expected such an honor. Two days after reaching Rome I received this invitation: "His holiness will receive you and give you communion tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock." At one corner it said, "Wear black dress, black veil and no gloves."

It was 10 o'clock in the evening when I received the invitation. Not having the black veil Romans use on such occasions and it being too late to buy one, I told my trouble to the landlady of the hotel, who willingly called on the neighbors until she found one. I was then afraid to be late and so anxious to see the pope that I never slept that night. Next morning, after being led by several ushers, who scrupulously examined my invitation, I reached the chapel where his holiness celebrated mass and gave me the holy communion. After mass he invited me to talk. He was very much interested in the Holy Land and smilingly asked me whether I saw any Bedouins and whether I was afraid of them. I then related to him that once I went with a lady friend walking from Jerusalem to Bethlehem simply to see whether we could walk six good hours under a hot sun. On the road, which is deserted, we perceived from afar an armed Bedouin and began to say our last prayers, but to our great surprise when he approached he greeted us.

"Good day, pretty girls! You will get as dark as I, walking under the sun."

This made the pope laugh heartily and say, "He was a good hearted man after all and seemed to care for your complexion more than you did."

After an interesting conversation I could see that Leo XIII. was a man of extraordinary intelligence, a sympathetic father and the greatest ruler the Catholic church ever had.

Two thousand Colombian paper dollars are of just the value of a pound of coffee. Thirty-three cents in American money would take them.

POEM WON A WIFE.

John Vance Cheney's Verses Interested Woman He Married.

THOU AND I.
Love, I would have thee as the snow is,
And pure on hilltops of the winter day;
Thou shouldst have sovereign rule, the
spirit away.
Of beauty, wide and shining as the light,
Thou shouldst be as the evening star is,
bright.
As heaven can make it; all thy summer
play
The melodies of June should sing and
play
In thee, the darling of the day and night,
But I would have thee human first and
last,
One not untouched by trouble, sought
of sin;
Thine innocence not accident, but
choice.
Fit them my service; I should have no
past,
No future; newly would my life begin,
Obedient to the music of thy voice.
—John Vance Cheney.

Having won fame as a poet and essayist, it was not fitting that John Vance Cheney should have won his bride with a song. The news of his marriage to Mrs. Sarah Barker Chamberlain of Chicago at Manitou, Colo., which recently reached New York, is coupled with a pretty and romantic story of how the woman of his choice was attracted to him by reading the prophetic sonnet, "Thou and I," in which Mr. Cheney drew the picture of the woman who would enable him to begin his life anew, says the New York Evening Journal.

Each had been married before, and each sought for the affinity that would lead them to the happier life, and so after reading the sonnet the desire to meet the author came to Mrs. Chamberlain. As each had mutual acquaintances it was easy, and it was not long after their meeting that they became engaged, although no public announcement was made of it. They were married at the residence of James F. Ponder in Manitou, Colo., on July 11.
